The Learning Resource Center

The Learning Resource Center (LRC) provides services to all university students who would like to become more independent and efficient learners. Services to faculty include assistance in forming study groups for students enrolled in courses and/or help forming supplemental instruction groups led by a trained student SI leader.

Workshops and handouts on improving learning skills such as time management, note taking, test anxiety, plus other areas are available each semester. Our Web page features numerous links to learning skills and research sites.

The Intensive Learning Experience (ILE) Program

This program provides academic assistance to freshmen who score at or below the lower quartile on the EPT (T141 and E7) and/or the ELM (370 or below). ILE features courses in English, English as a second language, entry level mathematics, and reading with a low teacher-student ratio, counseling services, and academic advising. (See course information on this page.) The program's aim is to increase the retention and graduation rates of historically underrepresented and underprepared college students.

University Tutorial Services

Free tutoring is available to enrolled Fresno State students. Tutoring for small groups is primarily available in high-demand subject areas. Groups of up to four students are matched for one-hour weekly sessions with faculty-recommended student tutors. Drop-in tutoring is available in mathematics, accountancy, and statistics. Two writing labs are available; one is for native English speakers and the other is for English as a second language speakers. Educational Opportunity (EOP) tutoring is coordinated through the LRC. Evening tutoring in mathematics and writing is available at the Residence Atrium for campus residents.
