M.A. in Education

Option: Curriculum and Instruction

Certificate of Advanced Study in Educational Technology

The Department

The primary mission of the Department of Curriculum, Teaching, and Educational Technology is the preparation and continuing education of K-12 educators, particularly teachers. Coursework and field experiences are designed to prepare teachers who are reflective thinkers, problem solvers, and decision makers to meet the challenges of teaching in a rapidly changing world characterized by social, economic, and cultural/linguistic diversity.

The coursework offers students opportunities to develop and refine their understanding of the teaching/learning process while experiencing the best of the world of practice. Supervised field experiences along with instructional planning and evaluation techniques provide the foundation for productive and responsive teaching. In this context, all faculty promote teaching as a science and an art. Programs offered through the Department of Curriculum, Teaching, and Educational Technology are identified within two major categories: teaching credential programs and master's degree programs.

Career Opportunities

California State University, Fresno is the focal point of the San Joaquin Valley. The city of Fresno is a large and growing urban/industrial and agricultural regional service area. This unique geographical position allows for ready access to a variety of school systems — large urban schools as well as many less populated school districts in predominantly rural settings. Recent statistical reports provide evidence that the area population is continuing to increase along with the number of school-aged children. This pattern of growth along with anticipated attrition from the teaching profession provides considerable evidence of a growing demand for classroom teachers, curriculum specialists, and other positions directly or indirectly related to the field of education.

Faculty

The faculty represents a wide range of experience and specializations. Students are encouraged to meet frequently with their professors and advisers to discuss their progress and concerns. Individual attention is the concern of the faculty and support staff of the department.

Credential Programs

A basic teaching credential may be earned in conjunction with a baccalaureate degree or following completion of a fifth-year course of study. The three basic teaching credentials are the Multiple Subject Credential, the Single Subject Credential, and the Special Education Preliminary Level I Education Specialist Credential.

The Multiple Subject Credential holder is authorized to teach in self-contained classrooms from K-12. Most holders of the Multiple Subject Credential teach in elementary school settings. Programs include:

- Multiple Subject — General (See this section.)
- Multiple Subject — Early Childhood Education (See this section and the Department of Literacy and Early Education.)
- Multiple Subject — CLAD/BCLAD (See this section and the Department of Literacy and Early Education.)
- Multiple Subject Teacher in Preparation Internship Program (See this section.)
- Special Education Preliminary Level I Education Specialist Credential and Dual Certification Program (See the Department of Counseling and Special Education.)

Note: Students are encouraged to complete the CLAD credential since many school districts require it for employment.

The Single Subject Credential holder is authorized to teach in the subject area of the credential in departmentalized classrooms typically found in middle school and senior high school settings. This credential is offered in agriculture, art, business, English, English-speech, English-drama, English-ESL, foreign languages (French and Spanish), home economics, industrial technology, mathematics, music, kinesiology, science, and social science.

For information about the professional preparation component of the Multiple and Single Subject Credential programs, including the Teacher in Preparation Internship Program, see this section. For information about the academic components of the Multiple Subject Credential, see the liberal studies major; for information about the academic component of the Single Subject Credential, see the appropriate department.

Multiple Subject Credential Programs

Holders of Multiple Subject Credentials are authorized to teach in self-contained classrooms commonly found in elementary schools. The Kremen School of Education and Human Development offers the Multiple Subject Credential. The cooperating departments are primarily responsible for developing subject matter competency which leads to the completion of the Multiple Subject Equivalency Program and baccalaureate degree in liberal studies. The Kremen School of Education and Human Development offers required coursework in professional education.

Multiple Subject Academic Advisers. Associate Dean Robert Monke serves as coordinator of the liberal studies major. Academic advising for the liberal studies major is conducted by Janell Tatsumura, Pat Christensen, and Esther Rodriguez in the Kremen School of Education and Human Development's Education Student Services Center in ED 100.

Multiple Subject Professional Preparation Adviser. Dr. Michael Jordan, the adviser for the Multiple Subject Credential Program, is located in the Kremen School of Education and Human Development's Education Student Services Center in ED 100 and serves as the adviser for the professional preparation component of the program.

Types of Multiple Subject Credentials. There are two types of multiple subject credentials — the Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential and the Professional (clear) Multiple Subject Credential (fifth year).

A Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential provides authorization to teach in a self-contained classroom for a maximum time period of five years.

A Professional (Clear) Multiple Subject Credential is required for full authorization in a self-contained classroom. All requirements for a clear Multiple Subject Credential must be completed within five years of the date of issuance of the preliminary credential.

Requirements for a Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential

1. Complete core of professional education courses.
2. Demonstrate subject matter competence:
 - a. complete an approved Multiple Subject Equivalency Program or pass the Praxis Multiple Subject Assessment for Teachers (MSAT) tests for Content Knowledge and Area Exercises 1 and 2

3. Complete a bachelor's degree.
4. Provisions and Principles of the U.S. Constitution. Completion of a course (two semester units or three quarter units) in the provisions and principles of the United States Constitution or passage of examination in the subject given by a regionally accredited junior college, college, or university or verification of meeting the interstate agreement requirement.

Time Restrictions. Courses required for preliminary and professional (clear) credentials must be completed no more than 10 years prior to credential application.

Note: With the exception of the Internship Program, individuals may begin a Single or Multiple Subject Credential program if they are in their senior year, have completed at least 90 units toward a bachelor's degree, and have been admitted to a credential program.

Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential with emphasis in Cross-Cultural Language and Academic Development and Bilingual Cross-Cultural Language and Academic Development (CLAD/BCLAD). The emphasis of CLAD/BCLAD programs is to prepare teachers to work with limited-English proficient students. The CLAD authorization will certify teachers to provide instruction for English language development and specially designed academic instruction in English. The BCLAD (Spanish and Hmong) replaces the Bilingual/Cross-Cultural Credential and will authorize teachers to provide academic instruction to limited-English proficient students in their primary language.

The Option IV program is designed to meet the needs of the re-entry student who has earned a bachelor's degree, has extensive work experience, and wishes to return to the university to obtain a Multiple Subject Credential to teach in an elementary school. Students selecting this option register in a block of courses taught by a team of instructors. The use of the cohort forms a close professional relationship among students and with faculty that is recognized as one of the most positive aspects of the program.

The intent of the program is to bridge theory with practice through an integrated curriculum approach, which combines classroom observations, demonstrations, discussions, projects, and lectures. It is a daytime program that is based at Lincoln Elementary School (First and Alluvial). Candidates participate in at least two student teaching placements in the Clovis/Fresno Unified School districts. Students in the Option IV Reentry program begin in August and complete their preliminary credential in May.

Multiple Subject, Block A/Elementary and Middle School Block. The Block A/Elementary and Middle School Block is designed to prepare Multiple Subject credential students for teaching in both elementary and middle school grades (K-8). Students in this program may do all of their student teaching in elementary grades (K-6) or have the option of doing half of their student teaching in middle school (7-8) and half in elementary school (K-6). The goal of this school-based, cohort program is to prepare students in practical applications as well as theoretical aspects of teaching by coordinating coursework with classroom practice and by providing additional training and support from classroom teachers. All coursework is offered on the Nelson School campus and is taught by a team of four professors who may also supervise student teaching. Student teaching placements are in Clovis, Central, or Fresno Unified schools. Special training is provided for students with an interest in middle school. This block enables students to move through the program as a cohort in a 12-month period beginning with one class in the summer. This block provides a CLAD emphasis credential, if all CLAD requirements are met. Program requirements are the same as Option I with CLAD. Information and applications are available outside of ED 255 or by contacting the coordinator at (559) 278-0265.

Multiple Subject, Teacher in Preparation (TIP) Internship Program. The TIP Internship program is designed for qualified individuals who have prior classroom experience and who seek an alternative route to obtaining a Professional (clear) Teaching Credential. Students must possess a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution, meet all criteria for admission to a basic credential program, and have extensive classroom related experience. Refer to the preliminary Multiple Subject CLAD/BCLAD Credential general requirements for initial admission. Candidates who have been successful long-term substitute teachers and holders of an emergency credential are good candidates for the internship program.

Interns have a year-long contract with a participating school district, earning a modestly reduced salary. In addition, interns enroll in coursework leading to a Professional (clear) Credential. The entire program requires two summers and two semesters to earn a Professional (clear) Credential.

For further information, please contact the Internship Office at (559) 278-0232.

Program Requirements

1. Subject Matter Competency. Demonstrate subject competency through completion of the Multiple Subject Equivalency Program or pass the Praxis Series Multiple Subject Assessment for Teachers (MSAT) tests for Content Knowledge and Area Exercises 1 and 2 and receive faculty certification of subject matter competence. Prerequisite for admission.

2. Admission to Program. Applicants must be admitted to California State University, Fresno and a basic teaching credential program in the Kremen School of Education and Human Development. They must participate in two levels of interviews: one by a university selection committee and another by school district personnel. Candidates must also be offered a teaching contract by a participating school district. Interns have the responsibility for finding their own jobs with participating districts.

CalStateTEACH is a new alternative path to the Multiple Subject CLAD teaching credential. Developed at the California State University Chancellor's Office, CalStateTEACH is designed specifically for teachers who hold emergency permits and are teaching full-time in an elementary school. The Kremen School of Education and Human Development houses one of the five regional centers in the state that administers this program.

Professional (Clear) Multiple Subject Credential Programs (Fifth Year)

The Professional (clear) Multiple Subject Credential is required for full authorization to teach in a self-contained classroom in the state of California. To obtain this credential, the candidate must meet the following requirements:

General Requirements. (See Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential — General Requirements for Initial Admission.)

Requirements for Admission to Student Teaching. (See Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential — Requirements for Admission to Student Teaching.)

In addition to these requirements, the Professional (clear) Credential (fifth year) candidate must:

1. Complete an approved fifth-year program containing a minimum of 30 units of upper-division/graduate credit taken after completion of all bachelor's degree requirements.
2. Include at least 30 units of professional education in the total five-year credential program.

Program Advisement. Program advisement for a Professional (clear) Multiple Subject Credential is obtained from the multiple subject fifth-year adviser located in the Kremen School of Education and Human Development's Education Student Services Center in ED 100.

Time Restrictions. Courses required for preliminary and professional (clear) credentials must be completed no more than 10 years prior to credential application.

Multiple Subject, Teachers in Inclusive Educational Settings (TIES) Block (a dual certification program). The TIES block is designed to prepare pre-service, multiple-subject, special education teachers to work collaboratively in serving the needs of an increasingly diverse student body. Students will complete the Multiple Subject and Preliminary Level I Education Specialist Credential Program in Mild/Moderate or Moderate/Severe Disabilities concurrently. For specific TIES program information, see the Department of Counseling and Special Education — Preliminary Level I Education Specialist Credential programs, Program Delivery Systems #3, Dual Certificate Program.

Preliminary Level I Education Specialist Credential Program (Basic Program). The Preliminary Level I Education Specialist Credential has two areas of specialization: Mild/Moderate and Moderate/Severe Disabilities. For specific program information, see the Department of Counseling and Special Education — Preliminary Level I Education Specialist, #1 Mild/Moderate and #2 Moderate/Severe.

Single Subject Credential Program

The Single Subject Credential authorizes the holder to teach in the subject area specified on the credential in departmentalized classrooms commonly found at middle schools, high schools, and adult educational settings. The Kremen School of Education and Human Development offers the Single Subject Credential in cooperation with 18 academic departments. The cooperating departments are responsible for developing subject matter competency; the Kremen School of Education and Human Development is primarily responsible for developing professional education competency.

The Single Subject coordinator in the Kremen School of Education and Human Development provides general advisement for Single Subject Credential candidates. Area advisers (see list) provide academic advisement for credential candidates majoring in their respective departments, teach methods courses in their subject fields, assign and supervise student teachers, and act as official liaisons between the subject matter departments and the Single Subject coordinator in the Educational Research, Administration, and Foundations Department.
