

The Department

English is a general major or minor designed to give proficiency in skills that traditionally have been among the most highly prized by society: an ability to read with comprehension and critical judgment; to communicate accurately and clearly both orally and in writing; to grasp difficult ideas and think logically; to do research and organize materials; to make ethical and moral judgments from an historical and humanistic framework; and to appreciate literature and the arts.

The core of the English major consists of four basic kinds of courses in the upper division: literary history courses, literary genre courses, literary seminars, and writing courses. The masterpiece courses apply to the minor and may meet General Education requirements. The department also offers courses in mythology and folklore, methods of research, film, and women's studies.

The Single Subject Waiver Program for teaching credential candidates contains a number of specific prerequisites and special required courses, some of which are outside the Department of English. For specific program requirements, consult with the credential coordinator each semester.

Faculty and Facilities

The English Department consists of 30 full-time faculty whose teaching fields cover every area of literary studies and the humanities, including film and folklore. Most of the faculty have published books, textbooks, and articles in their disciplines, five have received outstanding teaching awards at the university, and one has received an outstanding teaching award for the entire CSU system. In addition, the faculty includes a number of lecturers, part-time instructors and teaching assistants, and the department operates an English writing lab staffed by tutors trained to work with students on an individual basis.

Career Opportunities

English has a broad application to a variety of vocations: teaching, law, journalism, editing and publishing, business management, data processing, public office, professional careers in writing, and many others. English majors and minors are being looked upon today with special favor by employers in professional and industrial fields because of their skills in writing and thinking, their ability to communicate clearly to others, and their general knowledge of people and experiences gained from the study of literature.

The English Department maintains an Internship Program whereby our majors and minors, while working toward a degree, are placed in vocational positions requiring English skills. Job opportunities through this program have included positions with such organizations as the American Cancer Society and Older Americans Organization, businesses such as computer software firms and publishers of national trade newsletters, and such various employers as local congressmen, assemblymen, charitable organizations, and arts centers.

English

General Education requirements 51 Electives and remaining degree requirements 21

(See Degree Requirements); may be used toward a dual major or minor.

The English Department requires that students take at least one senior seminar (ENGL 193T or 194T) in their senior year. This may fulfill an upper-division requirement or an elective.

The English Department requires two college-level courses in a foreign language for the English major.

Total 120

Advising Notes

1. No General Education Integration course offered by the Department of English may be used to satisfy the General Education requirements for English majors.
2. CR/NC grading is not permitted in the English major with the exception of 4 units total of ENGL 175T and 186.
3. General Education and elective units may be used toward a dual major or minor (see Dual Major or departmental minor). Consult the appropriate department chair, program coordinator, or faculty adviser for further information.
4. Not more than 6 units by extension and correspondence courses may be applied toward the English major: correspondence courses may be applied only if they are acceptable for the major at the college where the course is offered.
5. English majors are advised to select a course in English history as one of their upper-division electives.
6. English majors considering eventual graduate degrees should consult the graduate adviser.

English Minor

Students in many vocational fields often realize that special skill in writing may be of great use in their future work — and such skill can best be obtained through an English minor. The English Minor requires 20 units above ENGL 1, at least 12 of which must be upper division, and 4 of these units must be from 189 or 193T/194T. ENGL 160W does not apply to the English Minor. Courses taken as CR/NC may not apply to the minor with the exception of 4 units total of 175T and 186.

Advising Notes

1. No General Education Integration course offered by the Department of English

- may be used to satisfy the General Education requirements for English majors.
2. The Single Subject Waiver Program in English constitutes a pathway toward the English major for those students who wish to teach in California schools.
3. ENGL 20 and ENGL 41, 43, or 44 are prerequisites for the program. A maximum of 6 units of these courses also may be applied to General Education Breadth C1 and/or C2 requirements.
4. Students must maintain a GPA of 3.0 to be eligible to enter the credential program after earning a bachelor's degree.
5. Credential candidates must take one unit of ENGL 182 concurrently with both EHD 155A and EHD 155B.
6. Students fulfilling the competency requirement by taking the SSAT and the PRAXIS exams should make an appointment with a credential adviser to obtain a list of additional requirements.

For credential programs with emphasis in speech, drama, and English as a second language, see the listings under Communication, Theatre Arts, and Linguistics.

Graduate Program

The Master of Arts program in English language and literature serves several categories of students: those teaching high school and community college; those anticipating doctoral studies; those studying creative or expository writing; and those simply interested in extending and intensifying the knowledge acquired in their undergraduate studies.

Admission to the Master of Arts program in English language and literature assumes preparation equivalent to an undergraduate major in English or a related field in the liberal arts. Courses which do not count toward the English major may not be used for the M.A. degree. To reach classified standing, both English and non-English majors must achieve a GPA of 3.0 or better in their major. (Foreign students must also submit TOEFL scores.) In the Literature and Composition Theory options, the advanced GRE (Literature) is not required, but it is recommended for students intending to pursue a doctorate. In addition, all candidates must submit a writing sample to the graduate committee, whose approval is necessary for admission to the program. If the writing sample submitted with the application to the program is not approved by the departmental graduate committee, the candidate may submit one additional revised or new writing sample for committee review. If the second writing sample is not approved, the candidate will not be admitted to the program.

Consult the graduate adviser every semester for program planning.

Master of Arts

Degree Requirements

Literature Option

Under the direction of a graduate adviser, each student prepares and submits a coherent program individually designed within the following framework:

	Units
ENGL 250T and/or 280T	12
Other courses in English (see specific requirements)	4
ENGL 299 (Thesis)	2
Approved electives in English or other fields	12
Total	30

No more than 8 upper-division units will count toward the graduate degree.

Specific Requirements. The following areas must be covered by graduate or undergraduate courses (may be satisfied in undergraduate preparation): English literature (2 courses), American literature, world literature, Shakespeare, and Chaucer (1 course each).

In addition to the general Graduate Division requirements, advancement to candidacy requires a reading knowledge of one foreign language, to be demonstrated by examination; the completion of at least one graduate seminar (250T) with a grade of B or above; and a review by the graduate committee of the work already completed.

An interdisciplinary major may be constructed in consultation with the graduate adviser in which up to 12 units may be taken in departments other than English when such a program demonstrates a coherent program of study.

Composition Theory Option

Under the direction of a graduate adviser, each student prepares and submits a coherent program individually designed within the following framework:

	Units
ENGL 250T or 280T	12
ENGL 270	4
ENGL 281	4
Approved electives in English or other fields	7-8
ENGL 299 (Thesis — writing theory or pedagogy)	2
ENGL 282	1
Total	30-31

No more than 8 upper-division units will count toward the graduate degree.

Teaching Requirement. At some period before the completion of the M.A. degree composition option, the candidate must be engaged in teaching or co-teaching a course with a strong writing component. While most candidates would be teaching in the English Department, other teaching assignments will apply with prior approval of the departmental graduate adviser. Enrollment in ENGL 282 should take place in the same semester that the student is fulfilling the teaching requirement.

In addition to the general Graduate Division requirements, advancement to candidacy requires a reading knowledge of one foreign language, to be demonstrated by passing an examination, completion of at least one ENGL 250T or 280T course with a grade of B or above, and a review by the graduate committee of the work already completed.

Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing

The M.F.A. in Creative Writing offers advanced degree training to talented students who wish to gain expertise in the writing of poetry, fiction, or creative nonfiction. It assumes that, as in music or the visual arts, the best education for the artist includes: training in the history and traditions associated with the student's discipline, training in theoretical and formal approaches to the craft, and extensive practice with critique of student work by peers and faculty writers. The program combines studio and academic approaches, providing the student with substantial critical workshop experience and a solid background in theory and literature.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing program requires: a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution with a GPA of 3.0 or better in the undergraduate major; submission of GRE scores; (foreign students must also score 600 or better on the TOEFL); three letters of recommendation from teachers, editors, or others familiar with the applicant's writing and academic skills; and a writing sample of the student's creative work (up to ten poems or twenty pages of prose) to be evaluated by the creative writing admissions committee. The advanced GRE is not required.

Degree Requirements

In consultation with the M.F.A. adviser, each student prepares and submits a coherent program individually designed within the following framework:

	Units
ENGL 261 or 263 or 265	16
ENGL 241, 243, or 245	8
(one course in the student's focus genre and one in either of the other two genres)
ENGL 250T or 280T	12
Approved electives (upper-division or graduate level courses)	12-14
ENGL 299 (Thesis)	4-6
Total	54

Note: At least 70% (38 units) of coursework must be at graduate (200) level.

Specific Requirements

Thesis. The thesis for the M.F.A. in Creative Writing consists of a single book-length manuscript of fiction, a collection of poems, or creative nonfiction that works together to make a unified body of work. The thesis committee works closely with the student on style as well as content; it adheres to a high standard of publishable quality work. In lieu of a formal defense, the graduating student is required to give a public reading from his or her work.

Language Requirement. In addition to the general Graduate Division requirements, advancement to candidacy requires a reading knowledge of one language other than English. This may be demonstrated either by passing an examination supervised by the Department of Foreign Languages, or (with prior approval) by completing an acceptable translation of poetry or prose.

Subject Examination. In addition to the general Graduate Division requirements, students are required to pass the M.F.A. exit examination with a grade of B or above. Each student works with his or her adviser to create a reading list which will be approved by a three member committee. The exam consists of essay questions that allow the student to demonstrate a theoretical and critical knowledge of the craft, through using texts from his or her approved reading list.

Certificate of Advanced Study in Composition

The Certificate in Composition is a post-baccalaureate course of study in the theory and pedagogy of teaching writing. It is designed for Valley classroom teachers, those considering doctoral study in English, candidates for the M.A. in English, and community college teachers.

	Units
ENGL 270	4
ENGL 281	4
Electives (LING 237, 251, 244; COMM 214; ENGL 265 or other electives approved by graduate adviser. Some of the courses may have prerequisites)	6-8
Total	14-16

The student must earn a grade of B or better in all certificate of advanced study coursework. Students who fail to earn at least a B in a course may repeat it for an improved grade. Please note that grade substitution is not permitted at the graduate level and that a GPA of at least 3.0 must be accumulated for certificate of advanced study coursework.

London Semester

London will become your campus as you embark on this adventure in learning. You will see stage plays, tour the world's great art museums, watch the Houses of Parliament at work, visit Stonehenge, Stratford-upon-Avon, Canterbury Cathedral and historical villages as part of your class activities. A travel week in February lets you explore more of England, Scotland, or Ireland.

The semester begins in early January and ends in mid-April. The cost is not much more than a normal semester on campus. A typical semester offers 11 courses to select from, including London Art Tours, British Theatre, Shakespeare on Stage, English Writing Workshop, and courses which may meet General Education and major and minor requirements.

Program information, fees, and costs may be obtained from the London Semester Office, College of Arts and Humanities, Music Building, Room 186.
