

Disabled Access Requirements for Architecture

Instructors

Imelda J. Golik has a Master's degree in Architecture and is a practicing architect and educator with more than 30 years of experience.

Imad Naffa is president and founder of NAFFA International, a private building code consulting firm in Fresno, California, that delivers services throughout the western United States and internationally.

This class teaches concepts and reference material for accessibility requirements imposed by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and state laws that govern access to public facilities, and federal and state regulations adopted pursuant to those laws. This course provides training for architects' license renewal and as internship credit hours for interior design, architectural, construction management and engineering students.

Course Topics

The class will provide:

- checklists and interpretation of ADA and Title 24
- guided access to critical information sites on the Internet
- understanding of how a disabled person travels within a space
- hands-on activities and student interaction
