Biography

Anthony Wayne Colver, known as A. Wayne Colver, taught in the Philosophy Department at California State University, Fresno, for thirty years. He also chaired the department from 1960 to 1962 and served as Assistant Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences in the late 1960s. After retiring in June of 1986, he died on March 9, 1987, from a sudden illness. He was commemorated by the university with the establishment of the “A. Wayne Colver Memorial Book Fund” at the Henry Madden Library. The rare book collection in the Sanoian Special Collections Library was also named for him.

A. Wayne Colver was born on December 23, 1932, in Oakland, California. He earned his bachelor’s degree from the University of California at Los Angeles and his master’s and doctoral degrees from Harvard University. He went on to publish a critical edition of David Hume’s Natural History of Religion and co-edit Compositions and Research: Problems in Evolutionary Theory.

In his personal life, Colver was an Army veteran of World War II and a member of both the American Philosophical Association and Phi Beta Kappa. He married Virginia Grace “Ginny” Sanders on April 9, 1949, in Los Angeles. They had two sons.

Scope and Content Note

His memorial information consists of an obituary and a memorial service flyer. Both items give some background information on his life, death, and legacy.

For The Natural History of Religion, there are page proofs, correspondence between the publisher and Colver, publisher’s notices, copy editor’s queries, a memorandum of agreement between Colver and Oxford University Press, and a book review titled “Dead-born from the Press.”

For Compositions and Research: Problems in Evolutionary Theory, there are page proofs and other miscellaneous documents related to the book.
