NOTICE

Warning Concerning Copyright Restrictions

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

I agree that these copies will be used solely for private study, scholarship or research. I understand that copyright is not conveyed with these copies. I will not quote from, publish, reproduce, or broadcast any material in this copy, in whole or in part, without written permission from the copyright holder and the Special Collections Library. These copies will not be given to other institutions or individuals, or sold.

Citations to copies of originals or primary source materials must identify their location with the statement: "Special Collections Library, California State University, Fresno."

The Special Collections Library reserves the right to ask for the return of copies when the user is finished with them.
