

Contents

- Post-Stop Phonatory Processes in English and Korean 1
Hyunkee Ahn, University of Texas, Austin
- Split-Inflection in Auxiliary Verb Constructions 13
Gregory D. S. Anderson, University of Chicago
- On the Coordination Argument for Overt Object Shift 26
Adolfo Ausín, University of Connecticut
- Resultatives at the Crossroads between the Lexicon and Syntax 38
Hans C. Boas, International Computer Science Institute/UC Berkeley
- Identificational Foci in Georgian 53
Ryan Bush and Magda Tevdoradze, University of California, Santa Cruz
- Partial Honorific Agreement in Korean Verbal Coordination 67
Incheol Choi, University of Texas, Austin
- On the Subject of Resultative Phrases: Does Syntax Reflect Event Structure? 78
Brady Zack Clark, Stanford University
- On Particle Verbs in English: More Evidence from Information Structure 92
Nicole Dehé, University of Leipzig
- A Reanalysis of Bidirectionality in Auca 106
Colleen M. Fitzgerald, State University of New York, Buffalo

Rising Declaratives Christine Gunlogson, University of California, Santa Cruz	119
A Link between Contrastive Stress and Contrastive Gemination in Mayo: Evidence for Optimality Theory Larry Hagberg, Summer Institute of Linguistics	132
The Logic of Optimality Theory Michael Hammond, University of Arizona	146
Fixed-Segment Reduplication in Hip-Hop and Gangsta Rap Jason D. Haugen, University of Arizona	163
Remarks on Case Feature-Checking in Japanese Hidehito Hoshi, University of California, Irvine	175
Tokoro as a Relational Noun Hironobu Hosoi, McGill University	186
Control and A-Movement Michiya Kawai, Huron College, University of Western Ontario	198
Phonological Constraints and Transfer in L2 Learners Chang-Kyun Kim, University of South Carolina	210
Case Deletion in Korean Kwang-sup Kim, Chongju University	225
NPs or Zero Anaphora: Referential Management by Advanced Japanese as a Second Language Masato Kogure, University of Arizona	237
Relativized Mapping Hypothesis and the Interpretation of Bare Plurals Sky Lee, University of Wisconsin-Madison	249

Defective Intervention Effects and Locality in Agree/Move Sunwoo Hankuk Lee, University of Foreign Studies and Soonhyuck Park, Pukyong National University	261
Tonal Alignment in Standard Korean: The Case of Younger Generations Byung-jin Lim and Ken de Jong, Indiana University	274
A Dilemma in the Ga/No Conversion Hideki Maki, Seilem-Teikyo University Fumikazu Niimura, University of Connecticut, and Keiichiro Kobayashi, Kanto Gakuin University	286
Implications of Tough Movement Hideki Maki, Salem-Teikyo University	298
Projection of Direct Objects Karine Megerdoomian, University of Southern California and CRL, New Mexico State University	310
Another Look at "Possessor Raising" Wataru Nakamura, The University of Electro- Communications	322
Why Typology Doesn't Matter to Grammatical Theory Frederick J. Newmeyer, University of Washington	334
Two Levels of Depictives in English Bokung Noh, University of Texas, Austin	353
Dynamic Properties of Coarticulation in Native and Non- native Speech Eunjin Oh, Stanford University	364
Wh-in-situ and Focus in Japanese Kaoru Ohta, University of Washington	377

EPP-driven XP Movement in Japanese Hajime Ono, University of California, Irvine	390
Productivity of Korean Partial Reduplication Hansang Park, University of Texas, Austin	402
Negative Inversion in African American Vernacular English: A Case of Optional Movement” Jeffrey Parrott, Georgetown University	414
The Pseudo-simultaneous Nature of Complex Verb Forms in German Sign Language Roland Pfau and Susanne Glueck, J.W. Goethe-University, Frankfurt/Main	428
Negation and N-words in Hungarian Genoveva Puskas, University of California, Santa Cruz/ University of Genova	443
On the Felicity Conditions of Distinctive Sentences Mandy Simons, Cornegie Mellon University	457
Interactions of Sentence Final Particles and Verb Movement Sze-Wing Tang, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University	470
Feature-driven Coordination: (A)symmetry and Matching John R. te Velde, Oklahoma State University	480
Aspectual Matching and Mimetics in Japanese Kiyoko Toratani, State University of New York, Buffalo	495
Locality at the Syntax-Semantics Interface: Control and Prediction in the Rationale Clause Matthew Whelpton, University of Iceland	508