Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security and Campus Crime Statistics Act, also known as the Clery Act, is provided in compliance with the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act of 1990. The report informs the campus community about important procedures, policies, crime prevention programs, and campus crime statistics. A notice is mailed annually to students and employees advising them that the report can be accessed on the Department website at: <http://www.csufresno.edu/police> . Hard copies of the report may also be obtained from the University Police Department or printed from the website via Adobe Acrobat Reader. Prospective employees and students are afforded the same information at the time they obtain an application for employment or admission. Any person may have access to the report.

Compilation of information for the report as well as criminal statistical data as required by the Act is accomplished through cooperative efforts with Student Affairs, Human Resources, Resident Housing, Judicial Affairs, Deans, the Athletic Director, team coaches, and Advisors to student organizations. Physicians and counselors from University Health and Psychological Services Center encourage victims of criminal offenses to report their circumstance to the University Police.

Criminal statistics for off-campus properties owned or controlled by the University or recognized student organizations, and public property immediately adjacent to the campus are obtained from the local law enforcement agencies.

University Police Department

The California State University, Fresno Police Department (University Police) is located at 2311 East Barstow (the southeast corner of Barstow and Jackson Avenues). The University Police Department is operational 24 hours a day, year round, and exists to provide safety and security for students, staff, faculty, and visitors. Our law enforcement responsibilities govern University property and officers have full peace officer powers, including arrest per California Penal Code Section 830.2. Per state statute, our authority extends one mile beyond any university boundary and officers are afforded peace officers privileges throughout the State. University Police Officers comply with peace officer standards set forth by the California Peace Officer Standards and Training (P.O.S.T.) Commission. The University Police Department is staffed with eighteen (18) full-time peace officers and a communications center with seven (7) full-time dispatchers. Emergency assistance is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The University Police Department works closely with the Fresno Police Department, Fresno Sheriff's Department, Clovis Police Department, and California Highway Patrol. The Fresno Police Department responds to the campus when immediate support is needed since the campus is within the City of Fresno. All of the aforementioned law enforcement agencies generously provide assistance upon request to include patrol responses, canines, horses, helicopter, dignitary protection, crowd control at scheduled events, and other law enforcement needs.

Student Affairs maintains contact with recognized fraternity and sorority organizations through the efforts of the Greek Affairs Advisor. University Police members do not provide law enforcement service to off-campus residences of recognized fraternity and sorority organizations nor are activities off-campus recognized by university authority. Criminal activity at recognized fraternity and sororities residences is monitored and recorded by the Fresno Police Department's Northeast Policing District. Student Affairs and University Police members enjoy a close working relationship with the Northeast Policing District's Problem Oriented Policing, and Tactical teams when violations of federal, state, or local laws surface. This cooperative team approach addresses situations as they arise as well as future concerns.

Reporting Crimes and Requesting Police Assistance

The reporting of crimes is vital in achieving the goal of providing a safe learning environment for the campus community. All persons who are victims or witnesses of a crime should promptly report the occurrence to the University Police Department. Reporting of such offenses by victims or witnesses may be done voluntarily. At times, sensitive situations may arise and University Police officers cooperate with individuals on a confidential basis. Privileges of confidentiality in criminal matters that are referred for prosecution in a court of law may be subject to exposure. University Police officers work closely with prosecutors and investigators with the Fresno County District Attorney's Office in these matters and the welfare of the victim or witness is of primary concern.

Residents in the University Courtyard may also contact the University Police Department for response by an on-duty officer. To report a crime, please call dispatch at 278-8400 and for emergencies, call 911 from any campus phone.

The University Police Department dispatch center is the public safety answering point for 911 emergency calls on university property and all police dispatch lines are recorded. If you are making an emergency call from a cell phone, it is advisable to call 278-8400 rather than 911. Emergency 911 calls from cell phones are answered by the California Highway Patrol. The Highway Patrol dispatcher must be advised that your call is from the University and your specific location must be provided. The Highway Patrol dispatcher should connect the caller to the University Police Department. Accessing a yellow or blue emergency phone located throughout campus will directly connect to the police dispatcher. Upon calling, please provide the following:

1. Name, telephone number, and location.
2. Describe the incident clearly and accurately.
3. Do not hang up! Let the person providing assistance end the call. More information may be requested.

Timely Warning

Code of Federal Regulations 668.46(e)

In the event that a situation arises, either on or off campus, that, in the judgment of the Chief of University Police, constitutes an ongoing or continuing threat, a campus wide “timely warning” will be issued. The “Timely Warning” bulletins must be related to a crime that is reportable under the Clery Act or that represents a threat to the campus community, i.e. Murder, Manslaughter, Rape, Arson and Robbery.

The “Timely Warning” bulletins will be posted on all exterior doors of all campus buildings, including residence halls, and a copy may be given to the Greek Affairs Advisor.

Anyone with information warranting a timely warning should report the circumstances to the University Police Department, 2311 East Barstow Ave. The Chief of University Police or his/her designee prior to posting will approve all “Timely Warnings.”

Access to Buildings/Facilities

Access to campus buildings is limited on evenings and weekends and only authorized individuals are granted admittance. University Police members are prepared to assist those needing access to a building. University identification must be provided upon request and authorization to enter a building must be documented and on file in the police dispatch area before admittance is granted. Generally, buildings are open Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. and closed on the weekends unless classes or other authorized functions are being held. Keys are provided through Key Control located in the Keats Building (5244 N Jackson Ave). Access to buildings controlled by keyless entry via the University KeyCard is administered by the University KeyCard Office 559.278-2172. Persons in unauthorized possession of University keys are in violation of the California Penal Code.

Alcohol Use Policy

The University is committed to creating a safe and healthy learning environment for all members of the campus community. The University disapproves of alcohol abuse, intoxication, and any resulting unacceptable conduct. The legal drinking age is 21 years and on-campus use of alcohol is limited to certain approved events and locations. Abuse of alcohol in any context will not be tolerated. Violations of state laws pertaining to the possession, use, and sale of alcoholic beverages, including underage violators, are enforced on campus.

Drug-Free Workplace Policy

The California State University, Fresno policy on a drug-free workplace sets forth the following guidelines for all students:

1. It is the intent and obligation of the University to provide a drug-free, healthful, safe, and secure learning environment.
2. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of a controlled substance on the campus or while attending an official University function off-campus is absolutely prohibited and subject to disciplinary action.
3. The on-campus use of alcohol is previously mentioned.
4. The University recognizes drug/alcohol/chemical dependency as an illness and a major health problem. Students needing help in dealing with such problems are encouraged to utilize the service of University Health and Psychological Services (559.278-2734). It has staff specially trained to assist students in dealing with chemical dependency.
5. The University Student Conduct Code stipulates that students found in possession of dangerous drugs, restricted drugs, or narcotics, either for un-prescribed use or for sale, are subject to expulsion, suspension, probation or a lesser sanction as determined by the disciplinary hearing process. The code governing student conduct may be found in the schedule of courses, the general catalog, and the Student Affairs Website:
(<http://studentaffairs.csufresno.edu/discipline/code.html>).

Questions regarding this policy can be directed to the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, Joyal Administration Building, Room 262, or by calling 559.278-2541.

University police members enforce all federal and state laws pertaining to violations of drug manufacturing, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use.

The use of alcohol and drugs can result in the following:

Alcohol

- Decreased performance and absenteeism
- Drowsiness and mood swings
- Poor judgment and coordination/tremors

- Memory loss
- Slowed mental processes and depression
- Slurred speech

For Assistance

Physicians and counselors at University Health and Psychological Services (<http://www.csufresno.edu/health>) will provide an assessment for a student and refer them for assistance. Assistance needed for alcohol and drug dependencies are referred to the Fresno New Connection (formerly the Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Council) at 559.248-1548. Other treatment programs may include: Alcohol Treatment Center 24 Hour Help Line at 800.711-6375, Alcoholics Anonymous at 559.221-6907, or Narcotics Anonymous at 559.255-5881.

Faculty and staff may contact the Employee Assistance and Development Office (EA&D) (559.278-4357) for confidential consultation regarding 'substance abuse' or other personal problems at no cost to the employee or member of their immediate family. A careful assessment of the situation will be made and alternatives will be offered which are both appropriate and affordable.

Community agencies are available to address drug and alcohol problems. Most of the various drug treatment programs offer no-cost assessment. They can be located in the Yellow Pages of the phone book under "Drug Abuse & Addiction Information & Treatment Centers" for those who prefer to seek help on their own.

Prevention and Education Efforts

University efforts to educate campus community members concerning alcohol consists of the Alcohol 101 program that is readily accessible throughout campus; classroom presentations by counseling staff; presentations at University 1; articles in the Student Body newsletter; presentations at the Campus Health Fair; distribution of printed pamphlets; and periodic articles in the Daily Collegian (campus newspaper), University Journal, and Infomail (through the campus computer network).

Drug Free Workplace Awareness workshops and seminars are sponsored by Human Resources and EA&D offices. Programs are offered throughout the year. University Police and members of the University Health and Psychological Services (<http://www.csufresno.edu/health>) offer presentation opportunities to students.

Weapons Policy

The unauthorized possession, use or sale of firearms, ammunition, fireworks, explosives, or any dangerous weapons are forbidden and are subject to university discipline and/or criminal prosecution. Approval for possession is by exception only and granted only by the Chief of Police or as specified in the California Penal Code. It is unlawful for on-campus residents to possess in their dorms, or on their person, any weapons. Weapons may be stored for safekeeping only at the University Police Department and access is available with advanced notification and appointment.

Hate Incidents

Incidents involving the degradation of any race, religion, creed or life orientation will not be tolerated. Incidents of a criminal nature shall be submitted for prosecution.

Workplace Violence Policy

California State University, Fresno is concerned about the personal safety and security of its students, employees and guests. University policy does not tolerate violence, threats of violence or acts of aggression against members of the university community or visitors. It is the responsibility of our faculty, staff and students to report acts or threats of violence to the university police department and/or to appropriate supervisory personnel. Any student, faculty or staff who engages in behavior which violates this policy will be subject to appropriate university disciplinary actions, and may be subject to applicable civil or criminal legal action as well.

Discipline

Students who violate University policy, code of conduct or criminal laws may be expelled, suspended, placed on probation and/or subject to other disciplinary action. Procedures for addressing matters related to student conduct are available in the Student Affairs Office and through the Student Affairs website at <http://studentaffairs.csufresno.edu>. Students violating criminal offenses may be subject to prosecution at the Fresno County Courthouse for local or state violations or Federal Court for federal violations. In compliance with federal and state laws and regulations, victims of violent crimes, including sexual assault, are to be informed whenever information regarding disciplinary action taken by the university is included in a student's file. Within three days victims are informed of the results of the disciplinary action and any appeal. The victim is required to keep the results of the disciplinary action and appeal confidential. For further information, contact the Judicial Affairs Officer at 559.278-2541.

Employees who violate University policies or criminal laws may be subject to administrative review or criminal investigations. State employees, other than academic personnel, fall under the purview of the Director of Human Resources. Academic personnel fall under the purview of the Provost. An employee who violates federal, state, or local statutes may be subject to criminal prosecution at the Fresno County Courthouse or Federal Court.

Sexual Assault Policy

Read below, or access the Sexual Assault and Domestic Violence Handbook: A Guide for Survivors and Helpers, at the following web address: <http://www.csufresno.edu/health/documents/SA-DV-handbook.pdf>. This handbook was developed by a workgroup of students, staff, faculty and administrators from Fresno State, and staff from Rape Counseling and the Marjaree Mason Center.

Reporting Sexual Assault

Members of the University community are acutely aware that the victim of a sexual assault may be physically and emotionally traumatized by an attack and each occurrence requires prompt and immediate attention. Sexual assaults will not be tolerated and each incident will be investigated with appropriate disciplinary, criminal, or legal action with the consent from the victim.

If you are a victim of a sexual assault, please do the following:

- Go to a safe place as soon as you can.
- Try to preserve all physical evidence. Do not wash, use the toilet, or change clothing if you can avoid it. If you change clothes, put all clothing you were wearing at the time of the attack in a paper, not plastic, bag.
- Contact the University Police Department as soon as possible by calling 911 for an emergency or 278-8400 for assistance from an officer. If the attack did not occur on campus then call the law enforcement agency having jurisdiction where the assault occurred. University Police members will assist you in notifying the appropriate law enforcement agency.
- Get medical attention. University police officers will assist, when called, with medical attention that will include collecting any type of evidence.
- Talk with a counselor. University police officers will assist you in contacting a trained professional whether you want to pursue legal action or not. Victims have the right to have an advocate and support person present at the hospital for examination.
- Contact someone you trust.

Victims may choose to contact any of the following for assistance:

On Campus

University Police Department:	278-8400
University Health and Psychological Services: See their website at http://www.csufresno.edu/health/	278-2734
Women's Resource Center:	278-4435
Judicial Affairs:	278-2541
Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students:	278-2541

Off Campus

Rape Counseling Center:	222-7273
Marjaree Mason Center:	237-4706

Assistance for Victims of Sexual Assault

With the approval of the victim, University Police members will assist in contacting support services for victims of sexual assault. Such services include:

- Notifying the Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students, Judicial Affairs, Women's Resource Center, Rape Counseling Center, Marjaree Mason Center, family members, etc.
- Confidentiality, medical attention, and physical protection.
- Academic and Student Affairs intervention, including changing the academic situation of the victim upon request when reasonable accommodations can be made.
- Relocation of victim and/or alleged perpetrator if both are on-campus residents. Other restrictions may be placed upon the alleged perpetrator.

If the victim does not wish to initiate legal action, this will be noted. In any event, general medical care may be provided. The victim has the right to press charges at a later date if desired. Members of the University Police Department are committed to assist victims in any way possible.

The victim's written consent is required for the release of any public information regarding the assault.

An alternative to remaining silent about a sexual assault is the Third-Party Rape Report. The victim maintains anonymity and the incident, time, place, and descriptions of the suspects are relayed to peace officers for preventative action.

University Police Department and Women's Resource Center have a close working relationship. University Police Department provides a liaison officer to the Women's Resource Center. The liaison officer has received specialized training in sexual assault investigations.

The Women's Resource Center provides services to enhance the learning and working experiences of women in the university community. Men are encouraged to participate in the center's activities, to support organizational goals, and to promote among their peers recognition of sexism, racism, and other forms of discrimination against women. The center provides a place where women can share and support one another; participate in discussion groups about sexual abuse and other topics; peer counseling and referral services for coping with personal transitions, crises, or other life experiences needing guidance and support; training and presentations with the local rape crisis center for those interested in becoming advocates for victims of sexual assault; receive informational literature concerning rape, spousal abuse, date rape, substance abuse and sexual assault, etc.

Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) system is a program designed to develop and enhance the options of self defense for women. The training program consists of classroom lectures on sexual assault, risk reduction factors, patterns of the date rape encounter, the continuum of survival, the decision to resist, and basic principles of self-defense. The second segment of the program is a hands-on approach to self-defense. Students learn offensive and defensive postures and a variety of tactics to ward off an attacker. The university police department has several certified RAD instructors and provides programs to campus members.

Disciplinary Action for Sexual Assault

Rape, acquaintance rape, and other forcible or non-forcible sex offenses are crimes and may subject students and student organizations to expulsion, suspension, probation, or criminal sanctions. All University efforts involving students are coordinated through Student Affairs 559.278-2541. Criminal sanctions are coordinated with the Fresno County District Attorney's Office.

The accuser and accused are entitled to have others present during any disciplinary proceeding. Both parties shall be informed of the outcome including the university's final determination and any sanction against the accused.

Health and Psychological Services

University Health and Psychological Services provides outpatient clinical medical care and, separately, psychological counseling services to university students. Physicians and professional counselors work with University Police officers and encourage victims to report crimes on a voluntary and confidential basis. Counselors do not disclose information to the university police unless authorized by the victim.

University Police Crime Prevention, Safety, and Service Programs

The University Police Department offers the following crime prevention, safety, and service programs to provide a safer learning environment for the campus community. Suggestions and improvements are requested and welcome.

Car Battery Assistance

Police department personnel can assist the campus community regarding vehicles disabled by a dead battery. Police personnel will respond to the location and attempt to jump-start the car. If the car will not start, officers will call someone to assist the party and stay with them until additional help arrives.

Closed Circuit Television Camera

Twenty-six (26) closed circuit television cameras operate around the campus to provide a watchful eye on many parking facilities and areas of traffic and/or transportation. Traffic Operations staff monitor the cameras each day of the week in the police dispatch center in an effort to prevent or detect criminal activity. Whenever possible, the camera operator may capture visual contact before an officer arrives. However, the cameras are no substitute for sound judgment. When in doubt regarding safety, utilize an emergency phone.

University Courtyard (Residential Housing)

Students residing on campus at the University Courtyard have eight (8) Public Safety Assistants dedicated to safety and assistance. Public Safety Assistants are trained in conjunction with the Residential Housing Staff in radio protocols and activity procedures.

Emergency Telephone System

Emergency phones are located in parking lots, buildings (classrooms, offices, and elevators), and grounds for safety and prevention of criminal activity. Classroom and office phones may be used to dial 911 or 88400 for direct police assistance. Parking lot and grounds phones are yellow or are clearly marked with blue lights, and are linked directly to the police department for quick response.

Safety Escort Services

Radio-equipped, uniformed, and trained safety escort officers will accompany persons to their destinations on campus 24 hours a day. If a safety escort officer is unavailable, a police officer will provide this service. Call 278-8400 or locate an emergency phone to request a safety escort officer.

Directed Patrol

Special attention is directed towards any campus activity that generates a large number of participants, i.e. students, staff, faculty or the community.

Facility Survey

Crime prevention officers will evaluate any university facility and make recommendations to increase personal safety and strengthen crime prevention. Call University Police (278-8400) to arrange for a safety survey.

Fraternity Liaison

A liaison officer maintains contact with fraternity and sorority members, the Greek Affairs Office, and the Fresno Police Department. They will train fraternity members on topics such as rape awareness, drug and alcohol abuse, and other issues. Call University Police (278-8400) for more information.

Lighting and Landscape Safety

University Police members work with Plant Operations personnel regarding lighting and landscaping maintenance to enhance safety and crime prevention. Police employees notify Plant Operations personnel in the event that a light is not functioning or if physical facilities need to be addressed.

Lost and Found

The University Police Department is the central repository of all found property. If an item has been lost or misplaced, immediately contact the University Police (278-2958) Monday-Friday between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m., or the UPD Service Center (278-8844) Monday-Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

University Police Department (UPD) Service Center

The service center is located on the bottom floor of the University Student Union and is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The UPD Service Center provides the following services:

- Police Services
- Alternative Transportation Programs
- Red Bike Program
- Lost and Found
- Parking Information

Property and Evidence

Property related to a crime or non-evidentiary property which is in the custody of the Department for temporary protection on behalf of the owner may be retrieved by contacting the Police Department's Detective Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (278-8400).

Megan's Law

Megan's law permits law enforcement agencies to advise the public about registered sex offenders from whom they may be at risk. Megan's Law information is available for viewing at the University Police Department and can be seen by appointment with the Department Detective and pursuant to California State Penal Code sections 290 and 290.4.

The California Department of Justice, Office of the Attorney General's website, dedicated to Megan's Law, is also available for searching: <http://www.meganslaw.ca.gov/>.

RAD/Personal Safety/Self-Defense Classes

The University Police Department is staffed with certified instructors in self-defense and Rape Aggression Defense (RAD). Contact the University Police (278-8400) to schedule a class, or email rad@listserv.csufresno.edu.

Presentations and Publications

University police members are pleased to present information on crime prevention and safety and are active participants at orientation programs for new students and employees and campus events such as Welcome Week. Crime prevention and safety brochures on topics, not inclusive, such as campus safety, self-protection for women, sexual harassment on campus, personal safety, campus theft and emergency preparedness are available at no cost from the University Police Department. Ride-Along: The Department has an open door policy to anyone interested in riding with a patrol officer during their shift. This is an opportunity for students, faculty, staff, or others to observe the services provided by the University Police Department.

CRIME CODE DEFINITIONS

The Clery Act, formally known as the Campus Crime and Security Act, mandates the reporting of certain offenses. The following definitions are in accordance with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Reporting Program. The definitions for murder (criminal homicide), robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, motor vehicle theft, arson, weapon law violations, drug abuse violations and liquor law violations are excerpted from the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook. The definitions of forcible and non-forcible sex offenses are excerpted from the National Incident-Based Reporting System Edition of the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook.

- B. Statutory Rape--Nonforcible sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent.

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, FRESNO, UNIVERSITY POLICE DEPARTMENT CRIME STATISTICS

The following crime statistic tables reflect the mandatory reporting offenses as specified in the Jeanne Clery Act. The tables display crime data over the past three calendar years and are separated by crimes occurring on university property (crimes occurring at student housing are also included in the University Property chart), crimes occurring off university property at recognized organizations, and crimes occurring on the bordering streets of the university. The Disciplinary Referrals table specifies the number of referrals to the Judicial Affairs Officer and number of incidents adjudicated by the Director of Student Housing. These numbers may or may not be duplicated and included in the crime statistic tables. Students attending classes applicable to the University at the College of Sequoias Junior College in Visalia can obtain the same crime information via their annual campus crime and security report at that venue. The following reported numbers may be duplicated in more than one reporting area.
